

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, public and private agencies, including business, industry, education, government, and others, rely on responsible management practices to succeed in today's economy; and

WHEREAS, based on healthy competition, our nation's system of free-enterprise is built on a foundation of solid and efficient management practices; and

WHEREAS, management professionals utilize widely accepted business principles to ensure accurate and efficient administration and productivity; and

WHEREAS, the 2004 observance of Management Week provides a unique opportunity to raise awareness of the importance of sound management policies and dedicated professionals to a healthy economy.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim June 6 – 12, 2004, as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to recognize the significant contributions of management professionals to an improved quality of life for the residents of the Palmetto State.
